CALYPSO WINS SMARHOUSE TRIO AWARD

Image Design Technology are proud to announce that Calypso Control has won the SmartHouse TRIO Awards for best budget automation system.

The SmartHouse TRIO Awards highlight the best lifestyle technology products for 2006 that identifies the top three products in categories ranging from the best TV displays to Hi Fi to portable players to wireless products and devices to automation and home theatre.

TRIO refers to the three key criteria used in judging the winners - Price, Performance and Innovation. Chosen from a high quality field, Calypso Control emerged as the winner due its ease of setup, no programming and simple compatibility with virtually any user interface.

Nicole Simmonds who announced the awards said, "Consumers constantly approach SmartHouse via either our web site or magazine seeking third party advice on which products and services they should buy. They want help and the TRIO Awards will allow us to refer them to these awards"
